

Keep it Non-Toxic Mobile Mural

Location: Phoenix metro, AZ

Client: Keep it Non-Toxic Candle Bar

Year: 2025

A storefront that travels: Keep it Non-Toxic, a Phoenix candle and apparel brand whose proceeds help domestic-abuse survivors rebuild, commissioned a mural for the custom trailer that hosts its mobile candle bar.

Painting a vehicle is not painting a wall. Brigitte researched specialized paints and processes for the trailer surface, working with a local paint supplier on materials that would flex and last on the road. The design went from hand-drawn digital mockup to projection, outline, precision sanding, and layered painting with full shading, delivered in about 24 hours of brushwork across four sessions in a single week.

The finished trailer carries a garden at highway scale: a giant pink peony, daisy, and lupine with a monarch butterfly riding along.

"Thank you @keepitnontoxic_ for trusting me to do this! I know how much this new venture means to you and your business."
